

USDA APHIS Team to Visit FSM for Micronesia Biosecurity Plan

(FSM Department of Resources & Development) In support of the U.S. military relocation to Guam and the CNMI and the associated Environmental Impact Statement that is being done to look at possible impacts, the U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) is funding a scientific analyses of terrestrial and marine invasive species risks to Micronesia that could occur as a result of the relocation buildup. This effort is being conducted to help remove invasive species threats to the Military mission and to address invasive species concerns raised by the Micronesian Chief Executives and federal and regional partners. These analyses will be performed by U.S. government scientists and incorporated into a Micronesia Biosecurity Plan (MBP) that will provide a blueprint for the entire region of Micronesia inclusive of Palau, Guam, CNMI, FSM and RMI, to effectively prevent new invasive species incursions and minimize additional invasive species damage.

On Friday, November 20, 2009, a U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) team is scheduled to arrive in Pohnpei and meet with national and state organizations and agencies inclusive of Agriculture/Quarantine, Trade and Investment, Customs, Tourism, Health, Pohnpei Port Authority, Environment Protection Agency, Marine and/or Fisheries, and COM-FSM to review the work that is to be done in partnership with these agencies. A risk analyses will be conducted for species from all taxa (plant, animal and pathogen) of terrestrial, freshwater and marine ecosystems. Ports of origin, ports of entry, pathways and commodities will also be analyzed.

The MBP will not only rank species, ports, pathways and commodities of high, medium, or low risk, but it will also make recommendations for required port facilities, staffing levels, staff trainings, technologies needed, best management practices, monitoring systems and rapid response capability for each Micronesian jurisdiction.

The MBP will be developed by a partnership of U.S. agencies working in close collaboration with a variety of local and regional invasive species experts. U.S. Federal partners include DoD (funding military logistics), U.S. Department of Agriculture (terrestrial analyses and port evaluations), U.S. Geological Survey (freshwater analyses), the Smithsonian Institute (marine analyses) and the National Invasive Species Council (overall coordination and primary liaison with regional partners).

This biosecurity plan will also address invasive species risks coming from and threatening the State of Hawaii as a result of the Military relocation. The MBP is complementary to similar efforts going on elsewhere in Oceania and will allow several broader synergies and efficiencies to be realized. This MBP is the first proactive assessment of invasive species impacts of such a major U.S. government action and in many ways, is a globally unique effort. As such, it is receiving attention internationally and is being lauded as an excellent example of regional collaboration on invasive species issues by many regional and international organizations and conventions such as the World Summit on Sustainable Development and the Convention on Biological Diversity.

This visit by the USDA APHIS team is being coordinated by FSM Agriculture of the FSM Department of Resources and Development, and any questions regarding the visit or the MBP should be directed to them at 691-320-5133.

President Mori Calls for Second Special Session of Congress

Palikir, POHNPEI - Based on M. Christian consultations with Speaker Figir, President Mori has decided to call for a special session of the 16th FSM Congress to be held for at least 7 days starting on November 30th, 2009, in Pohnpei. This is the second special session of the 16th Congress since it began in May of 2009.

President Mori decided to call this special session due to impending nominations for Congress to approve, a FY2010 supplementary budget request, and new legislations, grants and treaties that need approval and action by Congress. Another item on the agenda of the special session is the seating of the new at-large member from Pohnpei State, Hon. Peter Christian. In preparation for a productive session, President Mori has informed all department, office and agency heads to be fully responsive to the requests for assistance and information from Congress and he will continue to enforce the long-standing policy that curtails travel for heads of departments, offices and agencies during sessions of Congress.

Former FSM Secretary Dept. of Resources and Development Mr. Peter M. Christian left, with his wife, Mauriana Christian, is being sworn in as Pohnpei at large member in the FSM Congress by Justice Yamase on November 30, 2009

FSM Program Management Unit to Undergo Financial Records Management Project

President Mori has established a working group to implement a "PMU Financial Records Management Project" for the FSM Program Management Unit (PMU) that will compile and categorize Compact Infrastructure Sector Grant financial records. President Mori has said that it has become apparent that the performance of the Program Management Unit would be greatly enhanced and Compact Infrastructure project implementation improved thorough the actions of this project because currently, there has been little reconciliation between financial records kept for infrastructure projects by the U.S. Department of Interior-Office of Insular Affairs and parallel records kept by PMU.

The President also stated that there is insufficient coordination between the Department of Finance, the Office of Statistics, Budget, Overseas Development Assistance and Compact Management (SBOC), and the PMU to manage financial and other records of Compact Infrastructure projects to facilitate comprehensive monitoring and reporting. More specifically, the President noted a significant lack of data analysis to track annual and total project expenses.

The working group for the "PMU Financial Records Management Project" will be comprised of one or two appropriate designees from the Department of Finance, the Office of SBOC, the Department of Transportation, Communication & Infrastructure and the PUM and should focus on scoping the exact needs for and appropriate implementation of Compact Infrastructure Sector Grant financial record keeping. In addition, the group will identify adequate staffing needs to maintain an expanded record keeping mandate for the future. All designees will be chosen by the respective heads of these agencies.

President Mori stated that this project will not only benefit the Executive Branch in enhancing the performance of the PMU, but it will provide transparency for the State Governments, the FSM Congress, the U.S. Office of Insular Affairs and for the Joint Economic Management Committee (JEMCO). The timeline for this project is for completion within the next three weeks and a mid-year report regarding project implementation generated by early March 2010.

Household Listing Survey Shows Increasing Population Growth

From August to September 2009, census mappers were deployed to the municipalities of the main islands of each state and counted the households and people usually residing in these areas. They also took accurate GPS locations for each household. This was the first major field operation for the 2010 Census.

The purpose of this exercise was to establish a master geographic database for use in ensuring all households are reached and counted during the actual census next year. It will also be used to determine workloads and be used for logistical planning purposes. The GPS technology is a new dimension to the 2010 Census in terms of data usage. It has the advantage of providing increased accuracy of household locations and will enable easy identification of household locations of vulnerable groups within the society to ensure a targeted response to their needs.

The results of the survey show that since the last Census in 2000, the populations of the main islands of Yap, Chuuk, and Pohnpei have increased. The highest increase was in Pohnpei (.54%) and the lowest increase was in Yap (.36%). Kosrae's population showed a decline over this period, at an annual rate of -1.23%.

The Office of SBOC gratefully acknowledges the support from the FSM Government, US Government, the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA) and the Secretariat of the Pacific Community (SPC) to the Census. Our utmost appreciation goes to the people of the FSM for their cooperation in this important Census activity.

Upcoming major activities for the 2010 Census are the Pretest Operation (ongoing) and the recruitment/training of field staff to carry out the actual interviewing process in FSM beginning April 4, 2010.

President Mori Nominates Mr. Ihlen Joseph to serve on JEMCO

Palikir, POHNPEI - President Mori is submitting another nomination for Congress to act upon in the upcoming Second Special Session set to begin on Monday, November 30th, 2009. The latest nomination is for Mr. Ihlen Joseph to serve on the U.S.-FSM Compact of Free Association's Joint Economic Management Committee (JEMCO). Under Public Law 15-70, the President is required to select two FSM representatives to sit on JEMCO. The law gives the President the ability to select one representative from a position within the FSM

National Government and requires that the other representative must be selected from a list of four nominees, one nominee per state.

During the 6th Regular Session of the 15th FSM Congress, Hon. Lorin Robert, Secretary of the Department of Foreign Affairs, was confirmed as the representative from the FSM National Government. At that time, President Mori was awaiting the recommended names from the Governors. When the names were finally received from the states, Kosrae State nominated Mr. Semeon Phillip, Floor

Leader of the Kosrae State Legislature, Chuuk State nominated Mr. Jack Fritz, and two governors nominated themselves; Hon. John Ehsa and Hon. Sebastian Anefal. This created a problem for President Mori in that it was difficult to pick one governor over another for the second FSM representative to JEMCO. This impasse went on until Governor Ehsa recently decided to withdraw his name in favor of Mr. Ihlen Joseph whom he recommended to the President.
